

ORPC SMS/Text Messaging Policy

The ORPC may use SMS messages (text messages) to communicate with those who reach out to our office. If you contact our office and request contact back, the agency may reach out via phone call, email, and/or text messages. Any personal information relayed to the ORPC for the purposes of contacting our office will never be shared with third parties for marketing purposes. Frequency of text messaging will vary depending on contact preferences.

You may reply STOP at any time to opt-out of future text messaging from the ORPC. You may reply HELP to ORPC text messages for more information. Message and data rates apply.